

Friendly Reminder: the first of three public meetings scheduled will take place tomorrow, Wednesday April 19th from 7pm – 9pm in the Multi-Purpose Room at the Albert J. Boro Community Center – Pickleweed Park, 50 Canal Street, San Rafael.

Please join us for a community meeting about the Vulnerability Assessment for Marin’s bay shoreline. The meeting will provide an overview of the new report on future sea level rise, play the award-winning Game of Floods, and learn how to get involved and become part of the solution.

Due to parking constraints, we encourage all attendees to carpool if possible.

Visit MarinSLR.org for more information and to sign up for emails about the project.

Below is the flyer outlining the meeting dates and locations for your reference. We look forward to seeing you there!
