Re: Proposed Changes to Marin's Local
Coastal Plan & Development Code

Dear Jack:

At the Board of Directors meeting on April 16, 2016, the Board wanted to register its objection to two portions of the proposal:

1. It should be the water agency that determines its ability to supply requests for additional service. This is of particular concern in Stinson Beach where there is limited potential for future development at any rate. The Stinson Beach County Water District does not want to have to assume the burden and cost of meeting the reporting requirements of the Coastal Commission for procedures that the Stinson Beach County Water District performs as a matter of course.
2. The Board of Directors of the Stinson Beach County Water District strongly objects on behalf of the community to the idea that the County or, if so delegated to the District, that the District would have to police its customers by engaging in house- to-house searches to inventory water fixtures.

Sincerely,

Ed Schmidt
General Manager
